

Grace Heritage Center is a restored Gothic Revival structure, built in 1881, formerly home of Grace Episcopal Church.

The building was a gift to the City of Georgetown in 1991. It was relocated and restored through a joint project with the City and the Georgetown Heritage Society, now Preservation Georgetown.

Preservation Georgetown enjoys a lease of the structure for its offices and as a heritage tourism site. The organization shares Grace Heritage Center with the community for meetings, weddings, reunions and other functions.

Toward that end, a fee schedule and certain rules have been established. The fees are used to support the ongoing historical preservation work of Preservation Georgetown. The rules are intended to protect the fragile fabric of this architectural jewel – the oldest wooden church structure in our community.
